2. Year of Manufacture: Newer vehicles typically have higher values.
3. Mileage: Lower mileage usually correlates with higher value.

Methodology Behind NADA Valuation

2. Dealer trade-in transactions
3. Market trend analysis
4. Vehicle registration data

By analyzing these data points, NADA provides several types of values to suit different purposes, which we'll explore next.

Types of NADA Vehicle Values

1. Trade-In Value

This is the estimated amount a dealer might offer a customer for trading in their vehicle. It's typically lower than retail value to account for the dealer's profit margin and reconditioning costs.

2. Retail Value

The retail value represents the price a consumer might expect to pay when purchasing the vehicle from a dealership. It includes dealer markup and profit margins.

3. Certified Pre-Owned (CPO) Value

This valuation applies to vehicles that are part of a certified program, often commanding higher prices due to warranties and inspections.

4. Loan/Finance Value

Used primarily by lenders, this value helps determine the maximum loan amount they can offer based on the vehicle's worth.
